I. OVERVIEW

A. YAVAPAI COLLEGE MISSION

The mission of Yavapai College is to provide high quality, convenient and cost-effective learning opportunities for the diverse populations of Yavapai County.

B. HISTORY OF YAVAPAI COLLEGE

Yavapai College was established in 1965 by means of a countywide election. In the four years that followed, a board was appointed, a bond was passed, college personnel were hired, and curricula were established. The first classes were held in fall of 1969. In February 1970, the college district dedicated its first buildings in Prescott on a 100-acre site that was once part of Fort Whipple, the military base constructed in 1864 to provide security and protection for the territorial capital.

During the past 40 years, the college has expanded to better serve the growing communities in the county. The Verde Valley Campus was established in 1975 on a 125-acre site in the Town of Clarkdale. Today, there are also Yavapai College centers located in Prescott Valley, Chino Valley, Sedona and near to Prescott Airport (CTEC).

Yavapai College opened its Career and Technical Education Center (CTEC) fall 2007. CTEC is located on eight acres near the Prescott airport. Occupational programs offered at CTEC include Automotive Technology, Aviation, Computer Numerical Control, Electrical Technician, Gunsmithing, Industrial Plant Technician, Manufacturing Engineering Technician, Mining Technology, Motorcycle Technology, and Welding. The Mining Technology program offered at CTEC is a partnership with Freeport McMoRan Copper and Gold, Inc.

Yavapai College entered an agreement with the Town of Prescott Valley to construct a joint use facility in the Prescott Valley Library Complex. Construction of the facility began in 2008 and was completed in 2009. Yavapai College and Northern Arizona University entered a new joint admission program (YC2NAU Partnership) and secured a physical presence in Yavapai County to operate in the newly opened Prescott Valley Library Complex. This partnership offers local residents the opportunity to earn a baccalaureate degree from NAU in three years without leaving the area. The first freshman class began in fall 2010. Students can earn degrees in four fields: entrepreneurship, service industry management, applied human behavior, and community development and sustainability.

C. AREA PROFILE

Yavapai County is one of Arizona's four original counties and encompasses 8,123 square miles – an area greater than New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, or Hawaii. It is named for the Yavapai Indians who have long been inhabitants of the area. The county seat, Prescott, has the distinction of having been the capital when Arizona obtained territorial status in 1864.

Yavapai County's population continues to increase; however, the rate of increase has stabilized in the last year due to economic factors. In the 2000 census, the county's population was 167,517; in 2010, the population had increased to 211,033.¹ A key factor in this population growth has been the influx of retirees (ages 65 and older) who now make up approximately 25% of the county's residents. Despite these population increases, Yavapai County retains its rural flavor. Historically, the area relied economically on ranching, farming and mining. In recent times the service sector, light industry, and tourism have become more prominent components of the economy.
