

March 2022 Board Highlights

Career & Technical Education

- The new 3D house printing project is moving forward, with YC working on two homes at the Chino Valley Center. One home will be built by our partner "We Print Homes", and one home will be built by YC students, faculty, and staff. Pictured below YC students are practice printing at CTEC and working on machine set up and calibration at the Chino Valley Center.

- Students in Tom Rose's Construction II class are learning to apply stucco coatings as part of the finish carpentry lessons. This skill will come in handy when working on smoothing out materials used in 3D printing houses.

- YC Professional Airplane Pilot Student Cassidy Farias continues to rack up scholarships, and recently was awarded a $5,000 scholarship from the International Society of Women Airline Pilots. Cassidy has earned All USA, Coca Cola, Catholic Charities, Pauahi Foundation and other scholarships on what has proven to be a stellar student effort while at Yavapai College. A native of Hawaii, Cassidy discovered Yavapai College while on a visit to the area with her sister, who attends Embry Riddle University.

School of Business & Computer Systems

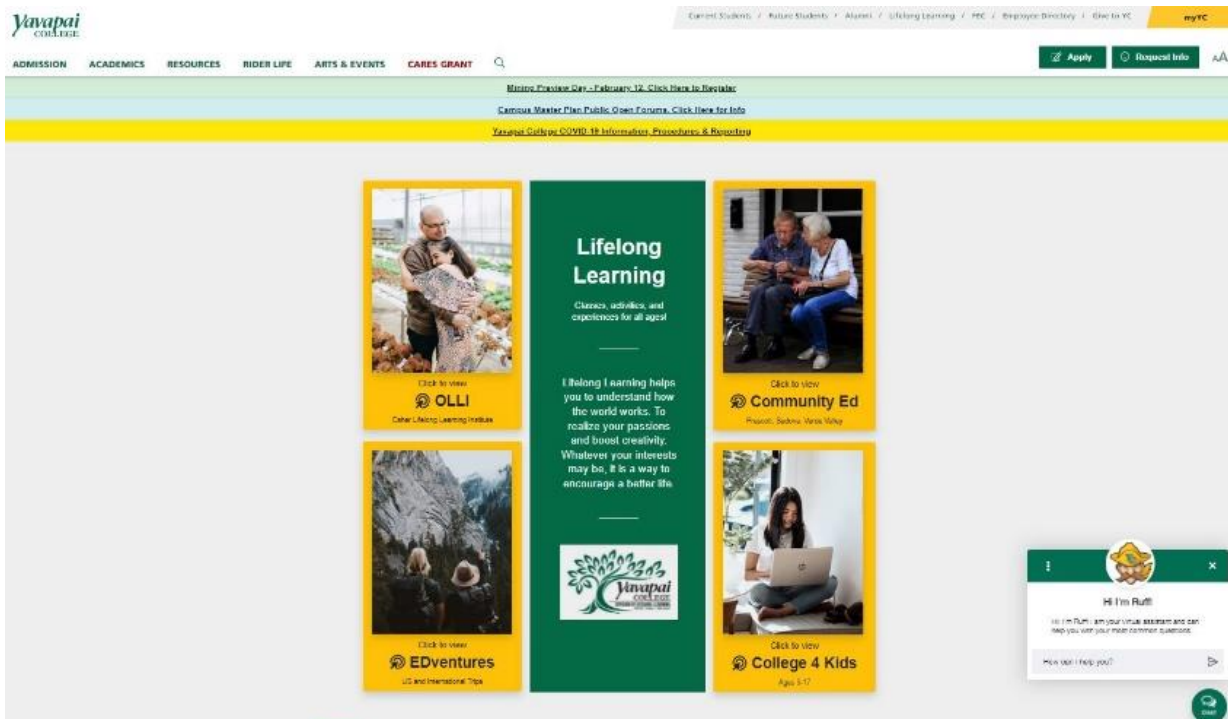

- The Computer Networking Technology/Cybersecurity program held its annual Dual Enrollment Information Session event for Bradshaw Mountain High School on February 3 and for Prescott High School on February 10. Students and their parents were invited to learn about the four-course program that earns students a Cybersecurity Technician Certificate upon successful completion. Between the two events, more than 160 people were in attendance to enjoy pizza, door prizes, and presentations from our CNT instructors Matt Sanderlin and Brenden Phillips, and CNT Program Director Greg Tomsho. Also in attendance were former students of the program to share their success stories.

Office of Instructional Support

- The First Year Adjunct Faculty @YC Orientation program was facilitated virtually on Wednesday, January 12, 2022, in the evening to a diverse group of adjunct faculty from throughout the U.S. This orientation program provided valuable information to our first-year adjunct faculty. Presenters throughout Yavapai College shared information relevant for our new faculty. Topics included a welcome by President Lisa Rhine and Vice President of Academic Affairs Diane Ryan. Representatives from Human Resources, Student Affairs, Academic Affairs and Teaching and eLearning Support were all able to contribute valuable information during this orientation program.

The First Year Adjunct Faculty @YC is an orientation program for new adjunct faculty at Yavapai College. It is offered prior to start of each fall and spring semester. The objective of this program is to:

- Provide support as new faculty begin their journey at Yavapai College.
- Show care for the success of first year faculty at Yavapai College.
- Build community with cohort, campuses, colleagues and culture at Yavapai College.

- Students enjoying the Verde Valley Campus Library's evening Spanish Café!

- Larry Meagher displayed his artwork at the Verde Valley Library during the month of February.

- The Verde Valley Library created a display located in the M Building's lobby in honor of Presidents' Day, February 21st. It consisted of a road map to the presidency poster, a voter box and ballot for the President of the Galaxy, and some additional information about the presidents and their usage with books.

Verde Valley Campus

- Yavapai College career exploration programs are now offered monthly to Cottonwood-Oak Creek School District on the Verde Valley Campus. Students had the opportunity to sign up for Law Enforcement in January. Over the next four months, other available programs are Construction, Culinary Arts, Nursing, CNC Machining, and Greenhouse Growing.
- The 8th-grade pipeline project's first class in Criminal Justice ended in January. Students enjoyed learning a new topic each day and having new experiences such as a Clarkdale PD's simulation booth trip. Their favorite was a lesson on police canine with Jerome Police Chief Allan Muma.
- A new group of students starts the Feb class in construction. We are excited to see what Instructor Aaron Rodriguez does with the class!

- Work continues on the tiny house. Students are finishing up framing tasks after having to make a few modifications. Tiny Home Developer Darrin Densmore visited the program and shared feedback and advice, which is being incorporated into this build. Plumbing students were learning to solder copper pipe after watching a demonstration by instructor Aaron Rodriguez.

For the first harvest of the semester, Horticulture students harvested two lettuce varieties. These lettuce varieties were used in the salads at the new YCGC Café on the Verde Valley Campus under the direction of Chef Kelley Foy. The café features a lovely light menu of soup, salads, sandwiches, coffee and something for the sweet tooth. The menu will change periodically, and showcase food grown by the horticulture students in the greenhouse. Please stop by and eat lunch with us!
