

April 2023 Board Highlights

School of Arts and Humanities

Laura Cline, English Professor, reports Disability Visibility has been chosen as the Common Read for the next academic year. One in five people in the United States lives with a disability. Some disabilities are visible, others less apparent—but all are underrepresented in media and popular culture. Now, just in time for the thirtieth anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act, activist Alice Wong brings together this urgent, galvanizing collection of contemporary essays by disabled people.

School of Social Sciences

- Tara O'Neill, Professor of Early Childhood Education, launched the summer Earn While you Learn program. Students earn 12 college credits tuition free and work at the Family Enrichment Center 12 hours per week while getting paid as a student worker during the summer term. We have had an overwhelming response and currently have 11 solid participants. We plan to offer a Fall/Spring version of the program.

- Brandelyn Andres, Art History Professor, Jerald Monahan, AJS Professor, and three Yavapai College AmeriCorps interns, in association with the Yavapai College Justice Institute and the Respect Campaign, traveled to Washington DC over Spring Break. These future leaders were able to learn firsthand about American history and culture and to see our government in action with a visit to the Capitol Building and a viewing of a Senate voting session.

Family Enrichment Center

- Virginia Hout, Family Enrichment Center (FEC) Director, reports the Kindergarten “K Fair” on Saturday, March 25th was an enormous success! Over 55 families attended and were able to talk to multiple schools and districts about their kindergarten options as well as other support services (including the FEC and our EDU/ECE programs). Free hearing and vision screenings were offered as were multiple age-appropriate, interactive activities and a dress up station. Children were able to see a school bus and even go for a ride around campus. Cat in the Hat made an appearance and was a huge hit among children and adults alike!

Division of Lifelong Learning

OLLI at Yavapai College in Prescott, Sedona, and the Verde Valley

- Spring 2023 classes began April 3. Enrollment is still open, and trends indicate that this Spring will be stronger than Spring 2022, continuing the overall direction of growth in both enrollment and membership.

- OLLI at Yavapai College in Prescott is working on building community and focusing on volunteer appreciation. Pictured below are elected members of the Governing Council showing their new lanyards. The lanyards (and name cards) help to build community within OLLI by helping students learn each other's names. Volunteers will be receiving special pins to wear on their lanyards, both as a thank you, and to promote volunteerism within OLLI.

- OLLI Spring Term Kick-Off - OLLI Members and friends will meet in person at the Sedona Center and online in Prescott for a presentation by YC Dean Irina Del Genio.

OLLI at Yavapai College

Office of Instructional Support

- The Boyd Tenney Library Presents: The Literary Southwest, April 16th at 6:00 PM. Authors Tara Ison, author of At the Hour Between Dog and Wolf, and Laraine Herring, author of A Constellation of Ghosts: A Speculative Memoir with Ravens, will present a short reading from their latest books, along with a discussion about the impact of early father loss, how grief manifests and shapes a life, and how the stories we tell ourselves—fact or fiction—make all the difference. There will be time for audience questions and a book signing.

- Yavapai College's Verde Valley Campus Library hosted Blind Date with a Book this past Valentine's Day, where participants selected a book concealed with wrapping paper. The event garners positive feedback each year. Former YC staffer pictured.

- The Boyd Tenney Library at Yavapai College hosts a Spanish Café every first and third Wednesday to provide employees, students, and community members the opportunity to mingle and work on their language skills. The next opportunity to participate is Wednesday, April 19th.

Verde Valley Campus/Sedona Center

- March has been busy for the culinary program. Culinary students catered the District Governing Board meeting, partnered with the College Honor's Program for their fundraiser making Boston Cream Pies, and created a new marketing video for our non-credit summer programming through the School of Culinary. Adjunct Mark Reese will be teaching fun recreational artisan bread making classes this summer!

- Yavapai College “LIVE” visited the Verde Valley Skilled Trades Center Construction class and filmed live footage during class, March 25th. Visit our Facebook page to view the video. (Or click the image below.)
